Subject: Dodd-Frank Disruptive Trading Practices Roundtable

Scott Schneider and R David Gary,

I was wondering if there was any additional information that was released after the round table was over. I listened in remotely from Chicago and was very interested in the conversation that took place. I checked back to the web release a couple of times and did not see any updates though. I did not know if there was any additional information that was provided like a transcript of the discussion or a summation of the findings by the end of the round table. Any information that you have would be greatly appreciated.
