To Whom It May Concern:

I am a farmer in central Illinois and I feel times are hard enough without the CBOT throwing another obstacle into our path by seeking to raise price limits on commodities.

I do not feel it would be in the best interest of farmers, grain buyers, even the CBOT itself. The possibility of margin calls becoming an even greater burden does not set well with me.

We producers need the CBOT, but it must be run in a manner that all concerned should be well served.

I would strongly urge you to deny this proposal. I feel it will do more harm than good.

Thank you for your consideration.
