Dear Sirs,
I have recently read that there is a movement afoot to eliminate COT reporting. This is just the opposite of what we need: we need more timely reporting. Somehow I can't help but think that this is related to the CFTC's unwillingness to take a stand on the silver manipulation that is currently going on (as pointed out by Mr. Ted Butler). If the information is hidden, then the CFTC won't be taken to task for not doing its job. THIS IS WRONG! Leave the COT reports alone!

Sincerely,

David Turba
