OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

It is difficult enough for me to make money in the market. As an investor, for myself, and two of my children I follow the advice of several newsletters. If they don't like the dropping of this information then I don't either since most of my picks are commodity based.

Less info is NOT transparency. Ayn Rand may have been somewhat over the top but I think she nailed it when she said the government should not be allowed to interfere in business. Please don't screw it up.

Respectfully,

Thomas Kenney
