Subject: Position limits

How will mining companies be affected if the cost of metals falls appreciably ? Will 300,00 workers and associated industry personnel lose their jobs forever ? If SPDR Gold as an example must liquidate much of their positions , how will this affect the perhaps 1 million workers and owners of related business concerns ? From industry news commentators to investment capitol groups there would be HUGE changes .

Before the word Government gets another Black Eye , please stop and or slow down and get these regulations right the first time . A very fragile recovery depends on it .
