DEFAULT ORDER

Charles Steven Goodie and Fact Financial, LLC have failed to file answers and are in default. Goodie's and Fact Financial's defaults constitute admissions of the allegations in the complaint. Accordingly, it is concluded that Charles Steven Goodie and another agent of Fact Financial, LLC defrauded LucyAnne Collins in violation of Sections 4b(a) and 4d(a) the Commodity Exchange Act, that Fact Financial is liable for these violations pursuant to Section 2(a)(1)(B) of the Act, and that these violations proximately caused $5,025 in damages; and Charles Steven Goodie and Fact Financial, LLC are ORDERED to pay to LucyAnne Collins reparations of $5,025, plus interest on that amount at 4.32 % compounded annually from September 25, 2003, to the date of payment, plus $50 in costs for the filing fee.

If either Goodie or Fact Financial seek to vacate this Default Order, they must file: one, a motion to vacate the default that meets all of the standards set out in CFTC rule 12.23(a)(1); and two, an answer to the complaint, that meets all of the requirements set out in CFTC rule 12.18.

Dated December 21, 2005.
