REF: Proposed Rules for Trading Off the Centralized Market

To whom it may concern,

I believe the minimum block size requirements for many commodities are ridiculously low. It is my understanding that a block trade should be of a size that the active trading community (not just one trader) could not fill in an orderly fashion. Based on the current levels, it is obvious the exchanges are not capable of determining these levels. The CFTC should step up and take control of these barely regulated trades.

Thank you for your consideration,

Anthony Scozzafava
