From: Steve Hickel <smhickel@gmail.com>
Sent: Tuesday, May 3, 2011 11:11 PM
To: Dunn, Michael <MDunn@CFTC.gov>; Gensler, Gary <GGensler@CFTC.gov>; O'Malia, Scott <SO'Malia@CFTC.gov>; PosLimits <PosLimits@CFTC.gov>; Sommers, Jill <JSommers@CFTC.gov>; AG-COD <AG-COD@michigan.gov>; DRUDGE@drudgereport.com; squawk@cnbc.com; kudlow@cnbc.com
Subject: bankers selling more silver than exists to knock down silver

---

http://harveyorgan.blogspot.com/

The next delivery month of July saw the OI fall slightly from 80,420 to 78,417. The estimated volume today was extremely high at 128,297. The confirmed volume yesterday with no switches came in at 200,775 contracts or over 1 billion oz of metal. The world only produces 700 million oz in a year. You just have to shake your head in bewilderment on this.