

From: Bill Sutherland <bsutherland34@hotmail.com>
Sent: Wednesday, May 4, 2011 11:08 PM
To: Chilton, Bart <BChilton@CFTC.gov>; O'Malia, Scott <SO'Malia@CFTC.gov>; Gensler, Gary <GGensler@CFTC.gov>; Sommers, Jill <JSommers@CFTC.gov>; Dunn, Michael <MDunn@CFTC.gov>; PosLimits <PosLimits@CFTC.gov>; Bill Sutherland <bsutherland34@hotmail.com>
Subject: fraud in the market

---

Banks have been irresponsible in shorting silver and issuing massive paper silver. Regulators have had years of tolerating this. Now the regulators raise margins 4 times in a week. In doing this our regulators intend to drop the price of silver and bail out their crooked bankers friends. Bankers should have been prosecuted long ago. It is time to prosecute the regulators for ignoring this obvious and massive fraud. The silver miners/shareholders need to launch a class action law suit. It should name the banks and the regulators. I am keen to sign up. It may be the only way to topple the corrupt banks and regulators.