- Compliance with Rules: Trading in the Contracts will be subject to the rules in Rulebook Chapter 4 which includes prohibitions against fraudulent, noncompetitive, unfair and abusive practices. Additionally, trading in the contracts will also be subject to the full panoply of trade practice rules, the majority of which are contained in Chapter 5 and Chapter 8 of the Rulebook. As with all products listed for trading on one of CME Group's designated contract markets, activity in the new product will be subject to extensive monitoring and surveillance by CME Group's Market Regulation Department. The Market Regulation Department has the authority to exercise its investigatory and enforcement power where potential rule violations are identified.
- Contract Not Readily Subject to Manipulation: The Contracts are based on a futures price series that is reflective of the underlying cash market and is commonly relied on and used as a reference price by cash market brokers and commercial market participants.
- Prevention of Market Disruption: Trading in the Contracts will be subject to Rulebook Chapters 4 and 7 which include prohibitions on manipulation, price distortion and disruptions of the delivery or cash-settlement process. As with all products listed for trading on one of CME Group's designated contract markets, activity in the new products will be subject to extensive monitoring and surveillance by CME Group's Market Regulation Department.
- Position Limitations or Accountability: The speculative position limits for the Contracts as demonstrated in this submission are consistent with the Commission's guidance.

- Trade Information: All required trade information is included in the audit trail and is sufficient for the Market Regulation Department to monitor for market abuse.
- Financial Integrity of Contract: All contracts traded on the Exchange will be cleared by the CME Clearing House which is a registered derivatives clearing organization with the Commission and is subject to all Commission regulations related thereto.
- Protection of Market Participants: Rulebook Chapters 4 and 5 contain multiple prohibitions precluding intermediaries from disadvantaging their customers. These rules apply to trading on all of the Exchange's competitive trading venues and will be applicable to transactions in these Contracts.

- Disciplinary Procedures: Chapter 4 of the Rulebook contains provisions that allow the Exchange to discipline, suspend or expel members or market participants that violate the rules. Trading in this contract will be subject to Chapter 4, and the Market Regulation Department has the authority to exercise its enforcement power in the event rule violations in these products are identified.
- Dispute Resolution: Disputes with respect to trading in the Contracts will be subject to the arbitration provisions set forth in Chapter 6 of the Rulebook. The rules in Chapter 6 allow all nonmembers to submit a claim for financial losses resulting from transactions on the Exchange to arbitration. A member named as a respondent in a claim submitted by a nonmember is required to participate in the arbitration pursuant to the rules in Chapter 6. Additionally, the Exchange requires that members resolve all disputes concerning transactions on the Exchange via arbitration.

Pursuant to Section 5c(c) of the Act and CFTC Regulations 40.2(a), the Exchange hereby certifies that listing the Contracts complies with the Act, including regulations under the Act. There were no substantive opposing views to the proposal.

Cash Market Overview and Analysis of Deliverable Supply

Cash Market Overview

Malaysian Crude Palm Oil Market

Palm oil is an edible vegetable oil derived from the pulp of the fruit of oil palms. It is naturally reddish in color due to high beta-carotene content, and should not be confused with palm kernel oil, which is derived from the kernel of the same fruit. Edible vegetable oils are versatile with multiple applications. They are crucial ingredients for cooking and producing processed food. They can also be found in personal care products such as soaps, fragrance and makeup. In addition, vegetable oils are used as feedstock for bio-fuel production.

Palm oil is one of the few highly saturated vegetables fats and is semi-solid at room temperature. This is an important component, as many U.S. and global food companies are moving away from partially hydrogenated trans fats. Palm oil is a reasonable replacement for trans fats and is also attractive to the commercial food industry due to its relative low cost.

According to USDA, global palm oil production is about 75.5 million metric tons in Marketing Year 2020/2021. Malaysian palm oil production is close to 19.9 million metric tons or over 26 percent of global production.

BMD FCPO futures are deliverable in Port Tank Installations approved by Bursa Malaysia Derivatives Berhad (BMD) at the ports of Kelang, Penang/Butterworth, and Pasir Gudang (Johor). According to BMD and the Malaysia Palm Oil Board (MPOB), crude palm oil production from the Peninsula Malaysia region of Malaysia predominately supplies these locations with oil, and that production in this region represents what can easily flow into the BMD FCPO delivery market. Additionally, although the Malaysia Palm Oil Board does not maintain quality statistics on crude palm oil production, they indicate that virtually all Peninsula Malaysia production meets the minimum delivery specifications of BMD FCPO futures; however, for this analysis it is assumed that only 90 percent of Peninsula Malaysia production meets BMD FCPO requirements.

Palm oil is produced from the fruit of palm trees. Palm trees continually bear fruit, so palm oil production is continuous. Malaysia is one of the world's major palm oil producers. Peninsula Malaysia palm oil production averaged 860,370 metric tons per month during the 36-month period from February 2018 to January 2021. This results in monthly deliverable supply of about 774,333 metric tons, assuming ten percent of the production does not meet BMD FCPO delivery specifications.

The final settlement price for the USD Malaysian Crude Palm Oil Day 15th Bullet Futures shall be based on the settlement price for the third forward month BMD FCPO contract on the 15th calendar day of the month. If such day is not a BMD business day, the settlement price on the previous BMD business day shall be used. The final settlement price for the USD Malaysian Crude Palm Oil Day 10th Financial Options shall be based on the settlement price for the third forward month BMD FCPO contract on the 10th calendar day of the month. If such day is not a BMD business day, the settlement price on the previous BMD business day shall be used. The final settlement prices shall be converted into USD and rounded to the nearest $0.25 using the Kuala Lumpur USD/MYR Reference Rate.

The FCPO contract is a liquid, physically-delivered futures contract and is the same size (25 metric tons) as the new USD Malaysian Crude Palm Oil Day 15th Bullet Futures and USD Malaysian Crude Palm Oil Day 10th Financial Options contracts. BMD amended its settlement procedures for FCPO futures on December 3, 2012.² Prior to that date, daily settlement was based on the last traded price within the final one-minute interval prior to market close provided that the last traded price fell within the bid-ask spread. On December 3, 2012, BMD adopted a Volume Weighted Average Price (VWAP) settlement process, similar to the process used by the Exchange for settling grain and oilseed contracts listed on The Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. (“CBOT”), for all actively traded months including the third forward month underlying the proposed calendar future. Currently, settlement of the third forward BMD FCPO futures contract is a VWAP of trades executed on CME Globex between 17:59:00 – 18:00:00 Malaysia Time. The VWAP was implemented to prevent end-of-day price manipulation that can distort the daily settlement price.

BMD FCPO contracts averaged 996,629 contracts, or 24,915,725 metric tons per month during the 36-month period from February 2018 to January 2021.

Analysis of Deliverable Supply

Malaysian Crude Palm Oil Market

Appendix C to part 38 of the Commission's regulations defines deliverable supply as "the quantity of the commodity meeting the contract's delivery specifications that can reasonably be expected to be readily available to short traders and saleable by long traders at its market value in normal cash marketing channels at the derivative contract's delivery points during the specified delivery period, barring abnormal movement in interstate commerce."

The Exchange based its analysis of deliverable supply on crude palm oil production in peninsula Malaysia. Additionally, the Exchange determined not to adjust the deliverable supply estimates based on the spot availability because spot market liquidity is not restrictive. In addition, according to the Malaysia Palm Oil Board, long-term agreements are extremely rare in Malaysian crude palm oil markets, and they do not believe any stocks would be precluded from delivery because of long-term agreements. There is also no evidence that ownership of stocks and/or storage would negatively impact deliverable supply; the market appears to be competitive with multiple market participants. For example, here is a list of firms approved by BMD to deliver on their FCPO futures contract. Note that this is just a partial list of total market participants.

We have used the data for the period February 2018 - January 2021. Based on the production data by the Malaysia Palm Oil Board, Peninsula Malaysia palm oil production averaged 860,370 metric tons per month. This results in monthly deliverable supply of about 774,333 metric tons (30,973 contract equivalents), assuming ten percent of the production does not meet BMD FCPO delivery specifications. The proposed spot month limits for the USD Malaysian Crude Palm Oil Day 15th Bullet Futures and the USD Malaysian Crude Palm Oil Day 10th Financial Options are 3,000 contracts, or 9.7% of the deliverable supply.

FX Conversion

The USD Malaysian Crude Palm Oil Calendar futures contract ("Calendar Futures Contract) cash settles to the BMD FCPO futures price converted into USD.

Bank Negara Malaysia, the central bank of Malaysia, publishes daily FX turnover. Over the year of 2020, the average daily FX turnover was about 11.71 billion USD⁵, or 351.3 billion a month for a 30-day month. Current BMD FCPO prices are less than $800 per ton. Someone holding the recommended spot position limit of 3,000 contracts (75,000 metric tons) at this price would have exposure of $60 million (75,000 * $800). This exposure represents about 1/50th of one percent of the Malaysia FX market during a month.
