Specifically, 360T certifies the NDFs and foreign currency options involving the currencies listed on Schedule 1 to Exhibit B.

Exhibit A

Below is a concise explanation and analysis of the Swaps:

Non-Deliverable Forwards

360T hereby certifies NDFs involving the currencies listed on Schedule 1 to Exhibit B. Each NDF is a cash-settled swap where the settlement obligations of the parties is determined by calculating the difference between the forward rate, which is agreed on between the parties at the start of the contract, and the prevailing spot exchange rate on the fixing date. This difference is then multiplied by the notional amount, which is also determined at the start of the contract. The price source for the spot exchange rate on the fixing date will be bilaterally agreed and, in majority of cases, determined by various central banks or as public by recognized commercial market data vendors. This information is easily accessible to the public.

Foreign Currency Options

360T hereby certifies foreign currency options involving the currencies listed on Schedule 1 to Exhibit B. A foreign currency option is a contract giving the option purchaser (the buyer) the right, but not the obligation, to buy or sell a fixed amount of foreign exchange at a fixed price per unit for a specified time period. The foreign exchange options that will be listed for trading by 360T will be cash settled. This means that any payments are made in the settlement currency, and that payments are not made in the reference currency.

Exhibit C

360T has determined that the Swaps certified herein bear upon the following Core Principles:

Core Principle 2 – Compliance with Rules

Trading in the Swaps will be subject to the 360T Rulebook (the “Rules”), which prohibits abusive trading practices, including: acts detrimental to 360T or that are inconsistent with just and equitable principles of trade (Rule 503), fraudulent acts (Rule 504), fictitious or non-competitive transactions (Rule 505), market manipulation (Rule 507), disruptive trading practices (Rule 508), misstatements (Rule 509), misuse of the trading system (Rule 510), wash sales (Rule 516) and pre-negotiated or non-competitive trades, including money passes (Rule 517). Trading in these Swaps will also be subject to Rules relating to protection of customers. See Rules 512-513, 518 and 519.

As with all Swaps listed for trading on the Trading System, trading activity in the Swaps will be subject to monitoring and surveillance by 360T’s Market Regulation Department. 360T has the authority to exercise its investigatory and enforcement power where potential Rule violations are identified. See Chapter 7 of the Rules.

Core Principle 3 – Swaps Not Readily Susceptible to Manipulation

NDFs and foreign currency options are cash-settled transactions between two counterparties and are typically used to either hedge or speculate against currencies where exchange controls in a particular country make it difficult to trade in the spot market directly. No exchange of the underlying currency occurs. Instead, the contracts are settled in the settlement currency specified by the parties, which is typically the U.S. dollar or the Euro.

Swaps in some currencies are fixed against a daily rate published by the relevant central bank of that country, while other Swaps are fixed based on rates that are an average of interbank prices displayed on Reuters or other recognized commercial market data vendors. In this regard, Reuters polls a panel of banks on their estimate of the exchange rate for each currency every day at a particular local time. The top and bottom quarter of estimates are taken out, and the fixing is the average of the remaining estimates.

The Swaps are not readily susceptible to manipulation for a number of reasons. First, the foreign exchange market is an extremely liquid market with massive volume, making manipulation very difficult to achieve. Second, as noted above, the method for calculating the cash settlement price is widely used and generally accepted by market participants. Third, as discussed above, the reference used for the spot exchange rate is very reliable and widely available, and used by numerous market participants. And last, 360T has a robust market surveillance program that is effectively able to surveil this market, detect uncommon activity, and investigate any such activity for signs of manipulation.

Core Principle 4 – Monitoring of Trading and Trade Processing

Chapter 5 of the Rules prohibits traders from manipulating, distorting the price of, and disrupting the cash settlement process of the Swaps. Such Rules are enforced by the Market Regulation Department.

Core Principle 5 – Ability to Obtain Information

Pursuant to the Rules, 360T will have the ability and authority to obtain sufficient information for each Swap to allow 360T to fully perform its operational, risk management, governance and regulatory functions and requirements under Part 37 of Commission Regulations.

Core Principle 6 – Position Limits or Accountability

As set forth in Appendix F to Part 43 of Commission Regulations.

Core Principle 7 – Financial Integrity of Transactions

All Swaps that are required to be cleared pursuant to Section 2(h) of the CEA or that are voluntarily cleared by the counterparties will be submitted for clearing through a DCO. See Rule 1002.

Core Principle 9 – Timely Publication of Trading Information

In accordance with Part 16 of Commission Regulations, 360T will publish daily market volume data reports for each Swap (or class of Swap) in terms of notional value. In addition, 360T will publish for each trading day, by tenor of the Swap, the opening price and the high and low prices. 360T will publish a settlement price for each such Swap except that, in the case of swaps listed for clearing by a DCO, the applicable settlement price will be the settlement price established by the DCO and 360T's website will contain a hyperlink to the relevant settlement information. See Rule 407.

360T will submit electronic reports of all primary economic terms data for each Swap to a registered swap data repository as soon as technologically practicable following execution of such Swap. See Rule 528. All such reports will meet the standards set out in Commission Regulation 45.3, including the requirement to produce a unique swap identifier for each transaction. 360T will also issue confirmations of transactions pursuant to Rule 525.
