Thanks, Ryne. Based on our email communications and the progress you have cited with the Commission, we can agree to an extension on OCC's silver volatility request for rule approval through April 17, 2012.

Steve,

To build in time for Commissioner review, issuing the proposed 4(c), 30 days of comments, and then the preparation and issuance of a final order, I would think 60 days out (so April 17, 2102) should get us pretty close. Feel free to give me a call with any questions or thoughts.

Thanks,

Ryne Miller
