SUBJECT: Rule Submission

Dear Mr. Stawick:

Pursuant to Commodity Exchange Act ("CEAct") Section 5c(c) and Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("Commission") Regulation 40.5(a), the Minneapolis Grain Exchange ("MGEX") hereby submits for Commission review and approval the attached amended Regulation 2012.00. Additions have been underlined; there are no deletions.

The purpose for amending the Regulation is to remove daily price limits on spot Hard Red Spring Wheat ("HRSW") futures commencing the first business day after expiration of non-serial options on the spot month. Also, to remove price limits on the Index futures and options contracts commencing two business days preceding the first business day of the expiring contract month.

The primary reason for the need to remove price limits going into a delivery month is to assist an orderly liquidation of positions. The recent trend of significant cash price movements underlying the HRSW futures contract is increasing at extraordinary rates beyond the current HRSW futures price limits. As a result, short position holders in the market are having difficulty closing out their positions. The problem becomes potentially more acute entering the delivery month. During 9 of the last 10 trading days, the March HRSW futures contract month has locked limit up while the cash grain price keeps rising because there are no price limits in the cash market. Every time futures lock price limit up or down, price discovery and risk mitigation is hindered, and liquidity and trade activity disappears. Such a result puts many position holders at risk, and runs counter to the purposes for a futures market.

The MGEX request for Commission approval to remove spot month limits in not new territory; two other designated contract markets with wheat futures contracts already permit unlimited price movement immediately prior to and during a delivery month. The MGEX is of the opinion that reasonable and sound economic business practice argues in support of this submission and request.
