Re: Revision to Proposal to amend CBOT Rule 10102.D. Increasing Daily Price Limits in Corn Futures
CBOT Submission No. 11-239

The Chicago Board of Trade, Inc. ("CBOT" or "Exchange") submitted for approval on May 10, 2011 to the Commodity Futures Trading Commission ("Commission" or "CFTC") Submission 11-161R containing its proposal to amend CBOT Rule 10102.D. to increase daily price limits in Corn futures. Submission 11-161R requested approval to increase price limits in CBOT Corn futures and options to $0.40 per bushel per day expandable to $0.60 per bushel per day.

On June 7, 2011 the CBOT submitted for approval to the CFTC Submission 11-161RR, clarifying that the May 10, 2011 request included the Mini-Sized Corn futures contract, which shares the same settlement price as the Corn futures contract, and thus should have the same daily price limit. These Corn futures submissions had an effective date of June 24, 2011, 45 days after the initial filing.

Pursuant to CFTC Regulation 40.5(c)(2[D]1), the CBOT is thereby notifying the Commission that it is extending the review period for an additional 45 days until, August 8, 2011.

The Exchange certifies that these contract terms and conditions comply with the Commodity Exchange Act and regulations thereunder. There were no substantive opposing views to this proposal.
