RE: Amendments to CBOT Rulebook Chapter 18A on U.S. Treasury Bond Options, Chapter 19A on Long-Term U.S. Treasury Note Options, Chapter 20A on Medium-Term U.S. Treasury Note Options, Chapter 21A on Short-Term U.S. Treasury Note Options, and Chapter 40A on Long-Term U.S. Treasury Bond Options to permit the listing of weekly options.
CBOT Submission No. 10-382R

Dear Mr. Stawick:

Pursuant to Commission Regulation 40.6 and Section 5c(c)(1) of the Commodity Exchange Act, the Board of Trade of the City of Chicago, Inc. ("CBOT" or "Exchange") hereby certifies amendments to exchange rules on contract months and termination of trading in options on CBOT U.S. Treasury Bond futures, Long-Term U.S. Treasury Note futures, Medium-Term U.S. Treasury Note futures, Short-Term U.S. Treasury Note futures, and Long-Term U.S. Treasury Bond futures. The Exchange certifies that these changes do not violate the Act or the Commission's regulations. There were no substantive opposing views to this proposal.

The CBOT seeks to expand its listings of options on Treasury Bond futures, Long-Term Treasury Note futures, Medium-Term Treasury Note futures, Short-Term Treasury Note futures, and Long-Term Treasury Bond futures to options with weekly expirations ("Weekly Treasury Options" or "WTOs") beginning on trade date Monday, January 24, 2011.

At launch, the CBOT will initially list the following WTOs:

- February Week 1 options expiring on Friday, February 4;
- February Week 2 options expiring on Friday, February 11; and
- February Week 4 options expiring on Friday, February 25.

February Week 1 and Week 2 options will exercise into the corresponding March 2011 Treasury futures contracts. February Week 4 options expire after the March 2011 quarterly options, and therefore will exercise into the corresponding June 2011 Treasury futures contracts. (Please note that the Exchange will not list February Week 3 options as these are identical to the March 2011 standard quarterly options that expire on Friday, February 18.)

WTOs will have the same contract specifications – American-style exercise, strike price ranges, strike price increments, minimum option premium increments – as their related monthly or quarterly Treasury options.

WTOs will exercise into an underlying Treasury futures contract. If a WTO expires prior to the nearby expiration date of the related standard quarterly Treasury option, then the WTO will exercise into the next quarterly delivery month for its underlying futures. If the WTO expires after the nearby expiration date of the related standard quarterly option, then it will exercise into the first-deferred quarterly delivery month for the underlying futures.

The CBOT will list WTOs to expire on every Friday, except for those Fridays on which standard serial or quarterly Treasury options are scheduled to expire. The Exchange will not list WTOs for expiration on the same date as the expiration of a standard monthly or quarterly Treasury option. In cases where Friday is a holiday, WTOs that would otherwise be scheduled to expire on that Friday will expire on the preceding Exchange business day.

As with standard Treasury options, the final settlement of an expiring WTO will be based upon the daily settlement price of the WTO's underlying Treasury futures contract on the WTO's last trading day. Whether an expiring WTO is in- or out-of-the-money, for the purpose of exercise assignments, will be determined at this time. Any WTO that is at-the-money (i.e., for which the strike price is identical to the underlying Treasury futures daily settlement price) will be considered to have expired out-of-the-money.

WTOs will be listed for trading on CME Globex (Sunday-Friday, ~~5:00~~5:30 p.m. - 4:00 p.m., Chicago time) and in open outcry (Monday-Friday, 7:20 a.m. -2:00 p.m., CT). On its last trading day, an expiring WTO will continue to trade until the conclusion of that day's Globex electronic trading session. WTOs that expire in-the-money shall be automatically exercised unless contrary instructions are given to CME Clearing House no later than 6:00 p.m., Chicago time.

Three WTOs will be listed concurrently for each Treasury futures product. Each WTO will have about 28 days to expiration upon its initial listing date. The Exchange will list new WTOs, for expiration approximately 4 weeks hence, on the weekend following the latest expiration of WTOs. The Exchange will not list new WTOs for trading on the weekend following expiration of standard monthly or quarterly options.
